The image is a composite. On the left, a white sign with a black border features a red oval with the word 'DANGER' in white. Below this, the text 'EVERYBODY SMOKES WHEN ANYBODY SMOKES' is written in bold black letters, separated by a horizontal line. At the bottom of the sign, the phone number '800-264-6412' and the website 'endthesmoke.com' are listed in red and black. On the right, a photograph shows a woman with short brown hair holding a young child in a blue shirt. They are in a laundromat, with rows of washing machines visible in the background. Other people are seen working in the background, and a small child is walking on the floor.
